Boy killed in C-Train accident

A young boy was killed yesterday around noon when he fell and was pinned between a C-Train and a platform at a downtown station.

Child falls head-first between platform and departing car

PETER MCCARTNEY for Metro Calgary

Tragedy struck a family yesterday when a young boy was killed after falling head-first into the gap between a downtown C-Train and the platform as horrified witnesses looked on.

Police say the boy, believed to be no older than five, and either his father or grandfather were trying to catch the eastbound train at 3rd Street and 7th Avenue SW as it was pulling away just after noon.

"I was walking on the station platform and I heard some lady scream, and all I saw was blood," said a young boy who preferred not to be named.

"The child was sucked into the traffic between the car and platform," said acting Insp. Terry Larson, who noted a language barrier with the child's family was making the investigation difficult.

Emergency responders arrived on scene but the boy was already dead, though witnesses had tried "Our hearts and prayers go out to the family. It's gut wrenching."

Mayor Dave Bronconnier

to perform first aid.

"It's a very, very sad day," said Mayor Dave Bronconnier. "It's an absolute tragic accident and our hearts and prayers go out to the family. It's gut wrenching. I really feel for the family."

Calgary Transit safety coordinator Brian Whitelaw said there is closed circuit footage of the incident that is being reviewed. He said the train appeared to be functioning properly, and added that, unfortunately, there aren't any measures that could prevent such tragedies.

"I just don't think there are any changes that could be made," said Whitelaw. "We will review it when we have the full details, but it's too early to say."

C-Train service was shut down for three hours due to the incident.

Province earmarks $800M for local transit projects

FUNDING Long-awaited transit projects for the Calgary area are on the horizon after the province announced $800 million for the city's transportation services.

Transportation Minister Luke Ouellette announced yesterday in Edmonton the breakdown of the province's $2-billion "Green Trip" program, which includes another $800 million for Edmonton Mayor Dave Bronconnier is excited about the news.

"There's no question that's a lot of money, but when you're talking infrastructure it gets eaten up quickly. It definitely sets the wheels in motion for a more sustainable city," Bronconnier said.

He added the money will go towards new buses, new BRT routes, land acquisition and extending the C-Train line to the south.

"This is part of our longterm objective of getting people out of their cars to reduce congestion and emissions, so this is really good for both transit users and motorists," Bronconnier said.

The funding will also go towards the Calgary Regional Partnership, a $153million, three-year proposal to link Airdrie, Cochrane, Chestermere and others by transit.

The early proposal also includes 15 new light-rail vehicles and 100 extended buses for Calgary to manage the city's growth and transport out-of-town passengers.

Looking for ways to save money? Start with your bank account.

These simple saving tips can help you get the most out of your bank account.

Priscilla Yu RBC Royal Bank® Manager, Personal Banking

Everyone is looking for ways to save money. If you've done any household budgeting you know that the worst culprits for draining your resources aren't necessarily big expenditures and shopping sprees. More often the problem is the smaller expenses - the ones you don't even think about - that add up to a big tab at the end of the month. For example, people seldom think about how much they could save by changing their banking habits, or even their bank account.

Debit number-crunching

We might be more inclined to reach for our debit card rather than a credit card for daily purchases because we associate credit cards with interest payments. Besides, debit is so convenient! But if your banking plan doesn't include unlimited debit transactions, you may be paying more in service charges than you realize. Have a look at your monthly statement and compare what you're paying in fees to the cost of an account that suits your banking and purchasing habits better. For many of us, switching to an account that includes unlimited debits can help save money every month by reducing excess fees.

Living in the ATM age

ATM fees can add up too. You should always try to use your own bank's ATM whenever possible. If you don't, you could end up paying twice for each transaction - once to the bank whose machine you're using, and once to your own bank. But sometimes it's unavoidable. An account that waives ATM fees when you use another bank's ATM could save you from some of these charges. Another trick is getting cash back from retailers when you make purchases on debit.

Banking for two

Different people take different approaches to banking – some couples use a joint account for everything, and others prefer to keep their banking separate. Whichever scenario you and your partner or spouse fit into, you may be able to save on monthly fees by switching to a banking package that includes multiple accounts for a single fee.

Bundle up and save

The same principles that apply to the other bundled services in your life - your cell phone plan or your cable television package, for example - can be applied to your personal banking services. And if your current financial institution doesn't offer you discounts on bundled services and accounts, or flat-rate accounts that eliminate à la carte charges for transactions you make regularly, it might be time to consider switching banks. A bit of time spent shopping for the right bank account can lead to big savings at the end of the year.

"Medical devices are all about limitations while fashion is all about possibilities," said Wanner

A typical artificial leg consists of standardized plastic foot, metal post and joint. The socket is customized to the wearer and a latex cover in a "flesh tone" hides foam filler.

"Considering the technologies and material available, cosmetics are still at a primitive stage," said Wanner.

Prosthetists don't have time to think about aesthetics, she said. "If you can walk, they think that's good enough. They don't have to live like this everyday."

JP Austring had a limb salvage amputation seven years ago after a battle with cancer. He said there needs to be more options for amputees to embrace their prosthetics.

"I hope (this project) makes the industry more willing to go in an artistic and fashion orientated direction," said Austring. "It's about time.

The festival, scheduled to run from June 21 to June 27, was cancelled on Saturday due to lack of funds, but that hasn't stopped many of the venues from trekking on.

While there was definite disappointment about the cancellation, Robert Young said Beat Niq decided to make the best of it.

All of the artists scheduled to play at Beat Niq agreed to perform and the shows will go on as sched-

Along with Beat Niq,
Mikey's Juke Joint, the Cathedral Church of the Redeemer, Scarboro United Church, Cantos Music Foundation and Original Joes Avenida will be hosting some of the performers.

The prices vary amongst the venues but Young said all shows at Beat Niq will cost $15 for tickets purchased in advance or at the door.

Courted by some, condemned by others

When Chinese president Hu Jintao arrives in Canada today on a rare state visit in advance of the weekend's G20 summit, he will witness something he rarely if ever sees in his homeland — protesters.

A posse of human rights advocates, from Amnesty International, to the Falun Dafa group, to free Tibet supporters, will follow his every appearance, and serenade him outside his hotel in downtown Ottawa.

China is emerging as an economic and political superpower, says Alex Neve of Amnesty International Canada, and it's time the country started behaving that way.

At a news conference yesterday, Neve and representatives of three other advocacy groups recited a litany of Chinese transgressions, from religious and ethnic repression, to the jailing of dissidents and their lawyers, to the appalling conditions under which many Chinese work, and worse.

"How can the dictator get away with it, and the world pretend this is not happening? We have to raise awareness," said Lucy Zhou of the Falun Dafa association.

U.S. judge overturns moratorium put in place after Gulf spill

A U.S. federal judge has blocked a six-month moratorium on new deepwater drilling proiects that was imposed in response to the massive oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico. The White House said immediately it would appeal the decision.

In a briefing, White House press secretary Robert Gibbs said U.S. President Barack Obama believes that until investigations can determine why the spill happened, continued deepwater drilling could expose workers and the environ-ment to "a danger that the president does not believe we can afford."

Several companies that ferry people and supplies and provide other services to offshore drilling rigs had asked U.S. District

Obama's administration has halted the approval of any new permits for deep-water drilling and sus-pended drilling at 33 exploratory wells in the Gulf.

"Once he had control of a computer, Mijangos searched for sexually explicit or intimate images and videos of women, typically young women and girls in various states of undress or engaged in sexual acts with their partners," according to the statement.

He also hacked email accounts and, posing as some victims' boyfriends, asked them to make pornographic videos, authorities said.

Prosecutors contend that Mijangos contacted some victims and threatened to distribute their sexually explicit videos to their computer contacts unless they made additional videos for him or if they went to the police. # Inflation sits right where BoC wants it

Not too hot, not too cold — Canada's inflation rate is about where Bank of Canada governor Mark Carney would want it leading into his next big decision on interest rates.

Statistics Canada reported yesterday that annualized inflation dipped fourtenths of a point to 1.4 per cent last month, and the central bank's core index slipped one notch to 1.8 per cent, well below the bank's preferred target of two per cent.

With temporary factors the only major contribu-tors to above-target inflation, analysts said Carney may still go ahead with his second interest rate hike in two months on July 20, but it won't be because inflation is keeping him up at a night.

A BMO economist noted, however, that the Canada's central bank is still charging a very low rate for overnight loans

Moderate jumps

Of the major components tracked by StatsCan, the following recorded price increases:

- Transportation 4.1%
- Shelter, 1.3% Homes, 4.4%
- Food, 0.8%

Gasoline, 6.2%

which are only available to a small number of very large financial institutions.

'Ît's true this inflation rate is quite benign, but the bank's overnight rate (0.5 per cent) is below the inflation rate. That's quite rare," noted Douglas Porter, deputy chief economist with BMO Capital Markets.

"There's no urgency, but over time the trend will be to get those interest rates at least back to inflation if not a bit higher."

The big unknown is how fast and how high.

For France, yesterday's 2-1 loss completed a miserable meltdown.

With each team needing a big win to have any chance of moving on from Group A, both stuck to character. South Africa played eager and aggressive soccer. France imploded.

In the end, neither survived the group stage. But Bafana Bafana players left with their heads held high.

"The fighting spirit was there," said Katlego Mphela, who scored one of South Africa's goals. "It's a bit unfortunate, but we beat France in the World Cup.

France leaves the tournament with a point from a 0-0 tie with Uruguay, and just one goal. Worse, it has become the shame of a proud country.

Yesterday, the 2006 runner-up was forced to play with 10 men after Yoann Gourcuff was ejected for elbowing Macbeth Sibaya in the 25th minute.

French soccer has been a mess ever since sports daily L'Equipe printed details of striker Nicolas Anelka's expletive-filled rant at coach Raymond Domenech during halftime of last Thursday's 2-0 loss to Mexico.

The French soccer federation sent Anelka home Saturday and the French players protested by refusing to practise the following day.

Not even a dressing down by French sports minister Roselyne Bachelot on the eve of the match could inspire Les Bleus. Bachelot called an emergency meeting Monday to tell the players they had let the country down and had one last chance to redeem themselves.

Both Ghana's goals in the tournament have come from penalties converted by striker Asamoah Gvan. But the goal drought from open play does not concern Rajevac.

"Penalties are part of the game," he said. "As far as we are concerned, no goal has been given to us as a present. Of course we have not used some of our opportunities from open play, but we also have not conceded a lot of goals, which is a good thing for us.'

Hall opens door for women

Founding owner of Flames also given hockey's biggest honour

The Hockey Hall of Fame is set to enshrine women for the first time.

Female players Angela James and Cammi Granato were among those elected to the Hall of Fame vesterday. They were joined in the players category by former star NHL forward Dino Ciccarelli.

Longtime Red Wings executive Jimmy Devellano and the late Daryl (Doc) Seaman a founding owner of the Calgary Flames — were elected as builders.

The induction ceremony will be held in November. While women had always been eligible for induction, the Hall made it easier for them to be selected when it established women's subcategory this year.

Not selected were Eric Lindros and Nieuwendyk. Both were in their first year of eligibility and seen as possible top candidates.

Granato was a 15-year member of the U.S. women's team, beginning in 1990. She led the team to a gold medal at the 1998 Winter Olympics.

"I dreamed of being in the NHL my entire life and this certainly makes up for those dreams," Granato said in a statement. "Being amongst the first women to play at college and later at the Olympics, it certainly was worthwhile being a hockey pioneer."

James was a four-time world champion with the Canadian women's team. She also starred in the 1970s and early '80s in the Central Ontario Women's League.

On behalf of everyone in women's hockey, I am truly honoured," said the Toronto native.

"As a kid I went to the Hall and was in awe of those who had been inducted. I am delighted to be able to join them.'

A native of Sarnia, Ont., Ciccarelli played 19 NHL seasons with five teams, recording 608 goals and 592 assists in 1,232 games. In nine seasons with the Minnesota North Stars, he led the team in scoring five times.

"This is a tremendous honour that I will cherish for the rest of my life," said

"I really appreciate the support of my coaches, the fans and mostly importantly my family throughout my 19-year career."

Serena, Nadal impressive in openers

WIMBLEDON American Serena Williams finished with an ace and a curtsy, showing she's ready for the Queen and much more at Wimbledon.

The defending champion won her opening match yesterday, relying on an overpowering serve to beat 17-year-old Michelle Larcher de Brito of Portugal 6-0, 6-4. Williams won all 27 points on her first serve and hit 15 aces, the last on her final shot.

As the crowd applauded her victory, Williams curtsied, mindful Queen Elizabeth II is expected to visit Wimbledon for the first time since 1977 tomorrow.

Williams plays her second-round match that day and has been practising her curtsy.

"I want it to be more natural," she said. "Right now it feels really forced.

"Seems like I've never done a curtsy before, which may be true. But I'm looking forward to nailing

The Queen may also get to see top-ranked Rafael Nadal of Spain, who advanced by beating Japanese wildcard Kei Nishikori 6-2, 6-4, 6-4, tendinitis.

"For me it was a very special moment to come back to this, probably the nicest Centre Court in the world," Nadal said.

"I'm enjoying a lot to be back in my favourite tournament.

Neither French Open

women's finalist survived the first round. Roland Garros runner-up Samantha Stosur, ranked a career-high sixth, lost to qualifier Kaia Kanepi 6-4, 6-4. Surprise French Open winner Francesca Schiavone was beaten Monday.

Being happy at work

RAFAEL BRUSILOW

The celebrated author, lecturer, philosopher and director of The Happiness Project and Success Intelligence has spent his career teaching people how to be happy, and how to leverage that happiness into being more successful in their lives and workplaces. His books and seminars have been featured on Oprah and BBC television and he has worked with major organizations like Dove, Virgin, Coca-Cola and Unilever to help their employees live better, more productive lives.

He says the value of true happiness is that it energizes people and gives them the tools to be more successful.

As members of the human race, we pride our selves in being sensible decision makers. According to social scientist Dan Ariely, author of the wildly successful book Predictably Irrational, we are in fact very irrational decision makers. Having seen Dan Ariely speak in the past, I was thrilled to hear he would be in town promoting his latest book, The

ROB BEINTEMA for Metro Canada

Dirt seems to be magnetically attracted to Jeeps. Which is understandable when you consider the Jeeps's off-road pedigree, and the 70 year bloodline of this battlefield-born, all-purpose sport ute.

The Jeep Wrangler is easily recognized as the "classic Jeep." The "Unlimited" name refers to the recent addition of a stretched-out, four-dour version that first debuted as a 2007 model at the New York auto show.

At first glance, the Jeep Wrangler Unlimited might not be considered particularly unique since, despite its larger dimensions, it meticulously follows the old formula and traditional styling cues of the original two-door.

But Chrysler boasts that it is the only four-door, fivepassenger SUV convertible on the market. And that specialized, SUV market, with true off-road emphasis, is fast becoming a monopoly, thanks to the thinning of the ranks — the diminishment of HUMMER and the uncertain future of Toyota's FJ Cruiser.

With more room for passengers and payload, the four-door formula seems to be working. In fact, I'd come to believe that I was seeing more Jeep Wrangler Unlimited four-doors out there than original two-door versions.

For 2010, Jeep has added equipment upgrades across the Wrangler Unlimited lineup. A new and improved Sunrider soft top, which includes a "sun roof" and full top-down option, makes it easier to remove the roof for that open-air experience.

Fog lamps, tow hooks, and a compass and outside temperature readout are now standard across the lineup.

The Jeep Unlimited Rubicon, the ultimate expression of Jeep's four-door version of the classic original, has been upgraded for 2010 with a long list of standard and available features.

The 2010 Jeep Wrangler Unlimited does has the familiar 3.8-litre V6 engine making 202 hp and 237 lb/ft. Those numbers sound diminutive, considering the Unlimited's 1957 kg curb weight but the old OHV V6 responded with a roar and I enjoyed it, probably because I was making the most of the power through a long-throw six-gear manual tranny that chucks delightfully into gear and vibrates at speed like a drunk at a revival meeting.

The top-of-the-line Rubicon model that I tested went a long way to smoothing some of the rougher edges with two-tone slate gray leather seating, an upgraded audio and navigation system and all the bells and whistles expected in a modern SUV.

HISTORY/DESCRIPTION:

Believe it or not, one of the world's most highly regarded German sports sedans is now a relatively affordable used car buy. For generations, the BMW 5-Series has been sought after by luxury and performance enthusiasts alike for its world-class blend of instantly-recognizable styling and performance

One of the most popular 5-Series generations is called the E39 by enthusiasts and BMW engineers. Available in the Canadian marketplace through model years 1997 to 2003, it was available as a sedan or wagon with a selection of driveline hardware and options.

Engine choices on standard cars in this 5-Series generation included both .5 and 2.8 litre straightsix engines with 184 or 193 horsepower, or a three-litre straight six with 230 horsepower. BMW 540 models were fitted with a 4.4 litre V8 that boasted output ap-300 proaching gines. A highquality and high-luxury feel are also big positives as stated by 5-Series owners.

WHAT OWNERS HATE: The most common 5-Series complaint by its owners relates to the cupholders. There aren't any Timmies drive-thru's in Germany, and as such, the 5-Series factory cupholders probably won't accommodate your morning java. Owners also complain of an unreasonably small trunk and cramped rear seating.

COMMON ISSUES: course, the BMW 5-Series is no Dodge Neon by repair cost standards, but reasonable prices and a fairly solid reputation for reliability should ease con-

Note any 'check engine' lights and have them diagnosed before agreeing to purchase, too. Paint and leather should also be scrutinized for signs of abnormal wear

THE VERDICT: Find an acceptable price on a wellloved 5-Series, and you're on your way to one of the world's best all-around sport sedans. Just invest in an aftermarket cupholder for that morning coffee.

Italy's winding trails will lead you through the breathtaking countryside

SUSAN GREENWOOD Metro World News

"I hope you don't think we're crazy," sang Marina as she shimmied her way past our table, boldly leading the second conga of the night over the pool and back into the bar.

Unfortunately all the signs were pointing to the Hotel Belvedere and its host being just that.

Firstly, this was Riccione on the Italian Riviera, a place where people are far too busy being beautiful and sipping Prosecco in beachfront bars to host wild parties with folks they've only just met. And secondly every single person currently swaying dangerously close to the water's edge had spent the day cycling anything from 90-125km with ex-pro road racers acting as tour guides among the vinelaced rollercoaster terrain of Emiglia-Romagna.

The Belvedere is part of the Italy Bike Hotels consortium - a collection of top notch hotels which cater for cyclists.

Yes they wash your Lycra daily, yes there is a spa to recover in, yes the food including local speciality spaghetti allo scoglio (spaghetti of the clifftops) is delicious, and yes you get the pick of high-end racing bikes for the week, with mechanics on hand. But no the staff won't push you up the hills. The idea is that each day you ride hard, then play harder Italian style — Campari, seaside, shopping. The rides range from not very hard to very very hard indeed, a minor distinction lost on 25km/h should be a speed reserved for motorized vehicles. # Vampires or werewolves: Pick a side

If the latest installment of the popular Twilight franchise is any indication, vampires and werewolves are the hottest thing to hit Hollywood since Universal Studios burnt to the ground.

So why are two classic monsters creating such a buzz in 2010?

"They're both monster figures obviously but they're quite different in nature," explained University of Toronto Cinema Studies Director Charlie Keil. He points out that in their differences, werewolves and vampires do have an affinity.

Sure, the vampire systemically draws on blood for existence and werewolves are more about the id "manifesting itself in an animal form so there's no way to suppress (it)," insisted Keil. "The idea there is that the monster really can't control itself."

Twilight flips these ideas a bit giving the werewolf some measure of control and repressing the vampire figure: "It doesn't want to carry out the lethal (action)," says Keil.

While in Eclipse these monsters oppose each other however, their common struggle has more to do with the sexualization of these characters

"(Vampires and werewolves) are more aligned because they both do have an undercurrent of sexuality linking them," said Keil. "Only with (Twilight), its with the sex in brackets ... it's a vampire without fangs basically; and a wolfman who won't really tear you apart.'

So which team are you on?

Jacob Black

POST-PUBESCENT SUPERPOWERS: Jacob has the ability to shape-shift into a wolf (he even saved Bella from drowning in New Moon — good dog!) His body also heals quickly and he can telepathically communicate with his fanged brethren.

FASHION OF THE BEASTS:

Considering Jacob's six-pack, shirts are frequently removed; often dressed-down since morphing into a wolf tends to shred the duds to rags anyhow.

Cruise returns to action

STEVE GOW for Metro Canada

Knight and Day

Director: James Mangold
Stars: Tom Cruise,
Cameron Diaz
Classification: PG
Rating: ***

REVIEW After Tom Cruise's much-talked about performance as balding Tropic Thunder character Les Grossman at this month's MTV Movie Awards, rumours began speculating that, not only are there plans for an upcoming Grossman movie, but that Tommy may finally be cruising back to the A-list.

The truth is, he still has to get through the release of Knight and Day.

Luckily, the blockbuster may just be the soft antidote Cruise needed for a reintroduction into society. A high-paced buddy actioner co-starring Cameron Diaz, the film may not offset the actor's ebbing public image to the degree that Les Grossman does, but as secret operative Roy Miller, Cruise does display a certain sense of levity.

Knight and Day doesn't hold back on action either. The movie almost instantly begins with Miller and innocent accessory June (Diaz, playing hysterical) cryptically meeting while boarding a doomed plane.

Soon however, June finds herself caught up in Miller's mission — to protect the inventor of a truly a train in the Austrian Alps and bombed on Miller's own private island in the Azores. Yes, this international espionage has all the subtlety of James Bond wearing an "I'm With Stupid" t-shirt.

Director James Mangold (Walk the Line) is clearly conscious of the fact this is a popcorn movie and thereby makes no attempt at establishing plausibility, creating surprise or taking it serious, which actually helps make the film work. Knight and Day only aims to deliver passable charm with action delivered way over-the-top. Not quite Les Grossman overthe-top, but perhaps just enough to get Tom Cruise halfway back to Hollywood's A-list.

Michaele Salahi gets her fame moment in new show

"I love to just make an entrance," declares one of the new Real Housewives of D.C. on the show's debut episode, set to air in August

Quick, guess which one! Of course, that grimaceinducing line, given what we all know, comes from Michaele Salahi — whose uninvited "entrance" into the White House last fall threw Washington into a tizzy, raised serious questions about presidential security, caused major fallout at the Secret Service and led to the departure of the White House social secre-

Because, judging from a sneak peek at the first of Real Housewives, Michaele is the unquestioned star of the new franchise. In fact, on a
